

So we need to resettle the Good Angel here to make him escape from his punishment. It is an example of creative ideas. So it is the combination of Marlow and Shakespeare. You can name this work as “Mactus” by the new author as “Shakelow”.

Migration to Macbeth:

Macbeth is originally good character. His feelings of guilty represent him as a man of human character even after murdering King Duncan. He murdered the king because of his wife, his first villain. Without his intension he murdered the king through the insulting words of Lady Macbeth. He is having the human trait, Guilt. That is why he sets the murderers to kill Banquo.

The angels drive from Dr. Faustus to Macbeth. There good angel couldn't rescue the Hero. But here we plant newly the good angel in Macbeth. If he is aware of the good angel, he can be a better King without committing even a sin. Then he can modify and say the same quote as;

- “Stars show me your grace; Let your grace change my black and deep desires.”

So I wish to challenge the negatives with great self-confidence. As I have told, we need to behave better while having everything and try to manage while having nothing.
